One Automobile Caused This

Crewmen work to clear the wreckage of a car-train accident about 12 miles east of Beaumont, Tex. The crash yesterday killed two persons in the automobile, derailed several cars and blocked the Southern Pacific's main artery of traffic from New Orleans. None of the 40 to 60 passengers on the train was injured. (AP Photofax)

Communist Press
Charges Reckless Driving In E. Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — The press of Communist East Germany launched a new campaign Sunday against tours of East Berlin by western military vehicles. It could be the foundation on which the East Germans might build some future action.

The controlled newspapers carried identical news stories accusing American and French soldiers of traffic violations in East Berlin. They quoted police headquarters as saying:

"Members of the western occupation forces coming from West Berlin have again several times endangered the public safety and order of the capital of the (East) German Democratic Republic with their vehicles."

Reckless Driving Charged

The story gave the registration numbers of four American and one French military vehicle which were accused of exceeding the speed limit, driving through streets closed to traffic or violating parking regulations on various occasions this month.

The story did not say what action the East German police took. But Friday U.S. authorities announced they had temporarily detained two Soviet army vehicles in West Berlin in retaliation for molestation of U.S. Army vehicles in East Berlin.

American, British, French and Soviet military vehicles frequently tour the two parts of the divided city.

Orientation Tours

The westerners go through the wall to the east sector to show the flag and keep an eye on what is happening there. Busloads of western troops are taken through the east sector on orientation tours.

Soviet vehicles bring officers and troops to the West for such duties as the Berlin Air Safety Center and the guard at Spandau war criminals jail. Soviet officers also cruise the western sectors in official sedans.

Shooting Spree Leaves 3 Dead

CARIBOU, Maine (AP) — Three persons were killed Sunday in a rooming house shooting spree authorities described as a double murder and suicide. A fourth person was critically injured when struck in the spine by a bullet.

The dead were identified as Richard Cadorette, 31; his estranged wife, Yvette, 28, and a housekeeper, Mrs. Eva Lacombe, 53.

Reported in critical condition at Cary Memorial Hospital was Miss Aline Gagnon, 20, who apparently was shot accidentally.

Police said Cadorette went to the second-floor rooming house to see his estranged wife and started a ruckus when she wouldn't let him in. They gave this account:

Cadorette shot Mrs. Lacombe when she tried to calm him down. The same bullet struck Miss Gagnon, who had come out in the hallway to see what the noise was all about.

Cadorette then smashed the lock on the door of his wife's room with a rifle shot, kicked open a door panel to gain entrance, and shot her as she stood hiding in a closet.

Then he sat on the bed and killed himself with the same rifle.

Minors Fleeing Raid Pull Boner

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — When policemen entered a second floor apartment where they had been told a noisy party was in progress Saturday night, several minors drinking beer dashed out the back door.

They apparently forgot there were no steps leading out of the door, and fell 15 feet to concrete paving, police said.

One girl broke both ankles in the fall. The others fled.

Police said Sunday no charges had been filed. They did not name the girl.

'Prof' Talks — A Little

Yale Prof. Frederick C. Barghoorn, released Saturday by the Soviet Union, talks at a news conference in New Haven, Conn., last night. Barghoorn would not discuss details of his arrest, detention or release by the Russians, who accused him of spying. (AP Photofax)

Soviet Arrest Still Mystery To Professor

Educator Refuses To Talk About His Detention, Release

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Yale Prof. Frederick C. Barghoorn said Sunday night it may never be known why he was charged by the Soviet Union with spying.

Barghoorn, who returned home Sunday after being released Saturday from a detention cell in Moscow and expelled from the Soviet Union, refused to give any of the details of his arrest, detention and release.

"There are some aspects that I can't discuss until I have had an opportunity to acquaint myself with the policies and the views of the appropriate officials in Washington," he said in a statement at a news conference.

Barghoorn said he had been extremely careful to do nothing that would cause any accusations or suspicions by the Soviet government.

"I did not even visit a Soviet home," he said, "or speak for more than a few minutes with a member of the opposite sex. That's how careful I was."

Carried No Camera

The Yale professor said he carried no camera.

He said it appears to be "difficult as yet for the Soviet communists to understand that there can be such a thing as objective social research."

He said he had hoped to investigate public opinion in the Soviet Union, and methods by which public opinion was formed.

He also said that he had written several Soviet officials before his trip, setting up his proposed activities, "so they had every opportunity to know what I planned to do."

Barghoorn read his statement, then answered a few questions. The news conference lasted only 19 minutes.

He said he was quite tired and "not at my top intellectual form, I'm afraid."

The Yale professor looked more rested and at ease at the news conference than he had during stops en route home from London.

Barghoorn, who was held incommunicado for more than two weeks in Russia, arrived at New York's Idlewild Airport from London, then flew directly to the Tweed-New Haven airport in a chartered plane.

Treatment "Correct"

He was driven into the city for a reunion with his 80-year-old mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Barghoorn. Her apartment is next door to his in a modern building near the Yale campus.

In London, New York and New Haven, he muttered only a few sentences. He did say he found his treatment "correct" by Soviet standards.

The 52-year-old bachelor was accompanied on the flight to New Haven by his brother, Elso, a Harvard botanist; an aunt, Mrs. Edgar F. Hazelton, and several Yale officials. He looked drawn and nervous.

As an expert on Russia, Barghoorn was well equipped to assess the meaning of his arrest and its implications for Soviet-American relations. Yet he seemed almost unable to accept the idea that he had become a celebrity.

He seemed amused by the suggestion that he would be a star attraction at Yale because of his arrest.

Jewel Thieves Rob Wealthy Banker, Wife

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two bandits pistol-whipped a wealthy Wall Street banker Sunday, threatened his wife and fled with an estimated $70,000 in jewels from the couple's luxurious apartment just off Park Avenue.

The gunmen overlooked a number of other valuable gems in their haste to flee the apartment of John Gurian, 62, investment banker and vice president of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, police were told.

Gurian's injury was not believed serious but he underwent X-ray examinations.

The robbery was the latest in a series of major jewel thefts here involving the wealthy or famous.

Mrs. Gurian said the two men entered the apartment, in the Dorchester Hotel on 57th St., by forcing an elevator man and a deliveryman to accompany them to a back door.

"Today is our wedding anniversary and we'd been getting deliveries of presents," she said. "Our maid answered the back door and they all rushed in."

"One man covered me and the other forced my husband from the dining room into the bedroom. But they got only one tray of jewelry. They missed the big pieces."

Commitment To Freedom U. S. Bulwark, Rusk Says

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — more people in other lands through the words of the Gettysburg Address than through those of the Declaration of Independence.

Rusk said American foreign policy is based on the nation's commitment to freedom. "The independence we won for ourselves we have favored for others," he said.

"For almost two centuries we have been opposed to dictatorship. We remain so today—and will be opposed tomorrow. We recognize that there are many possible forms of democratic institutions. But we believe deeply in political democracy, individual dignity and the rule of law.

We do not like it when democratic institutions are suppressed. We believe that the setbacks which democracy has suffered in many of the new nations, and a few old ones, will be temporary."

200 Volunteers Stop Oklahoma Prairie Blaze

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP) — Desperate efforts by 200 volunteer firefighters were credited Sunday with saving two small eastern Oklahoma farm communities from a massive on-rushing prairie fire.

The fire originated early Saturday and swept across parched rangeland, destroying farms, cattle and machinery, and threatening the towns of Taft and Boynton. The fire was finally subdued Sunday.

Clyde Neff, Muskogee county civil defense director, said winds up to 50 miles per hour fanned the blaze.

He said "flames probably got within a mile of Boynton and nearly got that close to Taft but we started fire lanes and managed to back them off. People really pitched in to fight this thing. We had about 200 people fighting it and we needed all of them to save those towns."

Authorities had said that 60 square miles were blackened but Neff scaled the estimate down to about 40 square miles.

"We worked about 30 straight hours in trying to control it," he said. "That wind would pick up burning straw and throw it half a mile."

"We concentrated mainly on trying to save lives and buildings. I'm still amazed we didn't lose some lives. You'd be fighting one fire and look over to see another one even bigger right behind you. It's a miracle that no one was killed."

Neff estimated that 200 head of cattle and 15 farm buildings were destroyed.

"Some farms and ranches were just leveled," he said.

"Houses, barns, shops and equipment were completely destroyed in some of them."

Pacific Fleet Boss Wants Big Carriers

TOKYO (AP) — Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp, commander of the U.S. Pacific Fleet, said Sunday he wants bigger aircraft carriers, preferably nuclear-powered, for use in the type of limited warfare he believes could occur in the Pacific.

The U.S. Pacific Fleet now has 27,100-ton Essex class carriers in operation but Sharp wants something larger and more up-to-date.

"Our No. 1 preference, naturally, would be for atomic-powered carriers," he told a news conference here. "It is essential that we replace the Essex class with atomic-powered Enterprise ships, or the conventionally powered Constellation or Kitty Hawk class."

The Enterprise displaces 75,700 tons.

Rocky Says Barry Invites Party Ruin

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York said Sunday that if Sen. Barry Goldwater received the GOP presidential nomination the senator's conservative stand "could be disastrous" for the Republican party.

But Rockefeller said he felt "it is impossible" that Goldwater could get the nomination without changing his present views.

Rockefeller, the only announced candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, said on CBS-TV's "Face the Nation" that President Kennedy could expose Goldwater's positions "in such a way that could be disastrous for the party."

He said it would take considerable time for the GOP to regain strength lost through a Goldwater nomination.

Asked if it would effect long-term damage, Rockefeller replied: "Yes, it would in the big Eastern industrial states, and I think also in industrial states in other parts of the country."

The governor repeated his stand that Goldwater must change his views to get in tune with the "mainstream of American thinking."

Reminded by a panel member that Goldwater has stated he will not change his views in order to get the nomination or elected, Rockefeller said he didn't believe the party would stand for that.

"The Republican party will adopt a platform when he (Goldwater) would have to commit itself. In my opinion it is impossible for him to get the nomination without changing his views."

For that reason, Rockefeller said, he could freely promise to support any Republican candidate who gets the nomination. "The platform is adopted before the candidate is nominated so the fight will come first in the party convention," he said.

U. S. Sergeant Killed In Red Ambush Attack

SAIGON (UPI) — A U. S. Army sergeant was killed in an ambush attack by a strong Communist guerrilla force in the jungled central highlands of South Viet Nam near the Cambodian border, a U. S. military spokesman said Sunday.

The spokesman said the sergeant was shot in the head in a convoy ambush by some 100 Communists Saturday on a road-way 116 miles north of Saigon. His death brought to 138 the total number of U. S. fatalities in South Viet Nam — 110 of them in combat — since the beginning of 1961.

At the same time, official sources reported that more than 60 Communist guerrillas were killed by government troops in air and ground strikes last Thursday and Friday north and south of Saigon.

U. S. Pilot Rescued By Russians Killed

STONY CREEK, N.Y. (UPI) — Capt. Hugh Lavallee, who parachuted from a crippled Sabre jet last August and was picked up by a Russian trawler in the Atlantic, was found dead Sunday near the wreckage of another plane crash.

The burned wreckage of the Air Force Reserve pilot's Massachusetts Air National Guard F86 Sabre jet was found Sunday near this Adirondack Mountain hamlet. The body of Lavallee, 29, was found nearby.

Misprinted U. N. Stamps Cost $2, Sold For $10,000

NEW YORK (AP) — Fifty misprinted United Nations postage stamps, purchased for $2 by an unidentified collector, have been sold to a wholesale stamp firm here for a price reportedly in excess of $10,000, it was disclosed Sunday.

The stamp firm, J.C.H. Stolorow, Inc., has announced it will sell the misprints on a "cost plus" basis to dealers only, and suggests they resell them to collectors for $390 each.

At that retail price, the 50 stamps would go for $19,500.

The 4-cent U.N. stamps were issued more than 20 months ago, but Stolorow got its hands on the misprints only this past week, according to H. Alexander Fraenkel, who publishes a weekly journal for stamp dealers and collectors.

Fraenkel, 51, termed the mis-

Kennedy Plans For Argentina Oil Talks Fold

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — President Kennedy's plans to discuss Argentina's cancellation of American oil firm contracts with Argentine Vice President Carlos Perete collapsed Sunday.

Perete notified the city of Miami that the press of legislative duties in Buenos Aires would prevent him from attending Miami's "Argentina Week."

A White House spokesman said Kennedy had arranged to see Perete in Miami for a private talk about Argentina's action before the President addressed the Inter-American Press Association (IAPA) dinner Monday night.

The cancellation of foreign oil companies' contracts last week has stirred demands from congressional leaders for a cutoff in foreign aid to Argentina.

Kennedy's address before 400 editors from North and South America could provide a forum to comment on the calls for suspension of aid. The President's comments at his last news conference indicated that he did not favor such retaliation.

"I don't think threats from Capitol Hill (of cutting off aid through amendments to the foreign aid bill) bring the results which are frequently hoped," Kennedy told newsmen then.

Kennedy relaxed Sunday under balmy Florida skies. He conferred on Monday night's speech with two of his advisers on Latin American affairs — Ralph Dungan and Richard Goodwin.

Burma Seizes Red Leaders

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — Burma's Communist party has been beheaded.

Beginning Friday night, combined military and police squads struck at Communist headquarters throughout the country, arresting virtually every known Red leader. The latest official reports Sunday say 435 persons have been taken into what the announcements call "protective custody."

"This is the biggest setback the Communists have suffered since Burma won independence in 1948," said one top source. "All their front-line leaders, together with their best professional organizers and agitators, have at one stroke been removed from the political scene."

Communist rebels who arrogantly boasted of their power and influence only days ago are now on the run.

The nation's tough military boss, Gen. Ne Win, thus scotched any suspicion that his regime might be swinging to the left. He struck following a breakdown of peace talks by the government with the Reds.

Four Killed In Blast

NAGOYA, Japan (UPI) — Four men were killed Saturday when an explosion destroyed the boiler room of the tanker Heiwa Maru. The accident occurred minutes after the vessel was unloaded of its cargo of oil.

Russ Seek U. S. Alcohol Due To Wheat Shortage

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union apparently is putting out feelers to buy alcohol in the United States so the wheat shortage won't push vodka off the shelves of Russian stores.

Reports from New York indicate exporters have put inquiries to Seagrams and National Distillers asking about sale of alcohol for delivery to Russia.

Whatever the Communist moralists say about vodka drinking—they are against it—production of vodka in this country has mounted year after year. Not much is for export.

In 1952 production of vodka in the Soviet Union was 811 million liters. A liter is about a half cup more than a quart. By 1962, production had mounted to almost 1.62 billion liters. That's nearly 15 half-liter bottles a year for every man, woman and child in the Soviet Union.

Party and government officials have been trying for years to get the population to slow down its drinking of vodka and other hard liquor. Production figures indicate scant success with the temperance campaign. Seagrams in the United States indicated it had received an inquiry on the possibility of selling 30,000 tons of alcohol to the Soviet Union next year. If you count "a pint's a pound," 30,000 tons converts into 60 million pints of alcohol.

Since one pint of alcohol makes 2½ pints of vodka, that is about 150 million pints. That is less than a tenth of last year's Soviet production of vodka, which runs about 40 per cent alcohol, or 80 proof, as Americans reckon it.

For a long time Soviet moralists said drunkenness was widespread in capitalist countries because of "vicious exploitation of the workers, their economic and political oppression, exceedingly arduous living conditions, poor accommodations, exhausting work."

But since communism has been going here for 46 years, there is less effort to explain drunkenness here in such terms.

Radar Uses Transistors

BALTIMORE (AP)—A radar system in which all electronic tubes have been eliminated has been developed by the Westinghouse Defense and Space Center here.

The system, which employs only transistors and other solid state components, measures the distance of an object much as a person detects the approach of an oncoming train by the rising pitch of its whistle.

For use in two spacecraft attempting to rendezvous, two different units would be used. One, called the interrogator, would transmit a signal that would be picked up by the unit aboard the other spacecraft known as a transponder. The transponder then would send out a signal of its own which in turn would be picked up by the interrogator.

In this way, each spacecraft would know the distance between the vehicles and the speed with which they were closing.

N. V. Petrou, general manager of the Westinghouse Aerospace Division, said the new radar will weigh less, require less power and will be inherently more reliable than systems with conventional electronic equipment.

Agreement Averts Westinghouse Strike

BALTIMORE (AP)—A strike of 2,300 electrical workers against the Westinghouse Corp. Air Arm Division was averted Sunday when union and management agreed on contract terms.

Agreement was reached after 19 hours of continuous bargaining.

The stumbling block, a company spokesman said, was a provision on worker seniority.

In a joint statement, the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Local 1805 and D. C. Lee company negotiator, praised the work of federal mediator Gene Ehrlich.

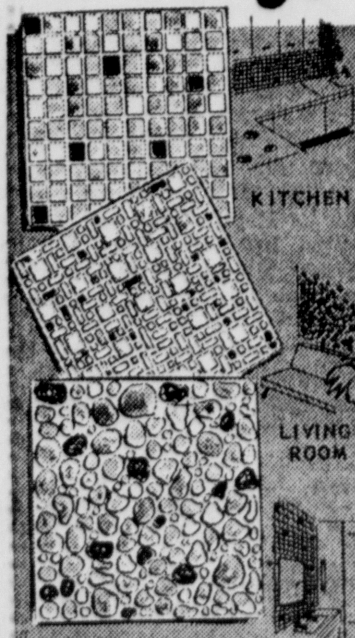

Ehrlich began mediation efforts early Friday. The union had voted to walk out at 11 p.m. Sunday.

Businessmen See New Era Of Prosperity

EDITOR'S NOTE—Is a great new day dawning with business up and down almost evened out? AP business news writer Darden Chambliss recently concluded a 12-city, coast-to-coast tour to check on the nation's business mood. He found many businessmen and economists thinking that a new economic era may be at hand.

By DARDEN CHAMBLISS

NEW YORK (AP)—America might just possibly be nudging into a new era of spreading prosperity that would all but lick inflation and depressions.

Businessmen and economists across the country are tantalized by this prospect as they watch the current good business performance stretch on and on.

In recent interviews, these men carefully fenced off the boundaries of their thinking:

Business ups and downs will continue, but they may become almost invisible to the majority of people.

Economic growth rates should increase, though probably not a lot. Unemployment, geographic pockets of semipovertry and economic deprivation for some racial groups would be slow to disappear.

Inflation could flare up anytime the government gets careless or the labor-management-market relationship gets out of whack, businessmen say. But there's a new psychology emerging, where the first reaction to a cost problem is to offset it somehow rather than to raise prices.

"Cost-cutting used to be something you mostly just talked about," says C. Fred Borden, executive vice president of Kaiser Steel Corp. "Now it's a matter of life or death, and every one of our people knows it."

His Fontana, Calif., plant has dramatized this emphasis with its Long-Range Sharing Plan, where workers get a third of all the money saved by boosting operational efficiency.

Imports and growing competition have been a strong restraint on prices.

"It used to be," says C. H. Bacon, president of Simpson Timber Co. in Seattle, "our industry could practically tell people: Take what we give you or else."

"Then the aluminum people and the concrete people and all these others started coming in," he said in his redwood-paneled office. "We had to wake up fast."

We had to find out ways to reduce costs to our customers or we'd have been dead."

Many businessmen confess to an almost superstitious feeling against saying anything positive about solving depressions, remembering the solemn assurances delivered before the crash in 1929.

St. Peter's Church, in Zurich, Switzerland, has the largest clock dial in Europe.

Maryland Briefs

TOWSON, Md. (AP)—Eugene King, secretary of the Baltimore County Human Relations Commission, has complained of the way police used a dog in arresting three persons in a racial demonstration this weekend.

King sent telegrams Saturday to Robert J. Lally, county police chief, and James P.S. Devereux, county director of public safety, saying he saw one policeman advise another to turn a dog loose on three integrationists. The trio was arrested on trespass charges after they handcuffed themselves to the door of a segregated roller rink in Catonsville.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., and Sen. Thruston Morton, R-Ky., have declined an invitation to run in the Maryland presidential preference primary May 19.

Maryland Republican Chairman David Scull said Saturday he received negative replies from the senators. Scull had invited 10 prominent Republicans, including Allott and Morton, to run in the primary.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Sen. J. Frank Raley, D-St. Marys, says he may introduce a bill at the Maryland Legislature next year calling for an increase in the state beer tax to raise funds for clearing Maryland waters of silt and millfill.

Raley told the Legislative Council's Committee on taxation and fiscal matters Saturday that a one-cent increase in the tax could raise as much as $600,000. The present tax is 3 cents a gallon.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Funeral services will be held Tuesday for George H. Roeder, executive vice president and general manager of radio station WCBM.

Roeder, 57, died Saturday in Maryland General Hospital. He was named general manager of

Five Die In Md. Auto Accidents

By The Associated Press

Five weekend traffic deaths raised the Maryland highway fatality count to 505, seven less than a year ago at the time.

The most recent victim, police said, was John B. Effinger, 20, of Baltimore, who died early Sunday, hours after an accident in Northeast Baltimore.

Earlier, Kathleen L. Reeder, 30, of Boonsboro, Md., was killed on Maryland 65 near Hagerstown when her car spilled off a curve in the road.

Other victims were: Samuel B. Kirker, 70, of Gouverneur, N. Y.; who died Saturday when the car in which he was riding struck a utility pole near Buckeystown, Md.

Robert F. Garbrick, 19, of Takoma Park, Md., who was killed Saturday when his car overturned and burned in Silver Spring, Md.

Jerry Harris, 16, of Dundalk, Md., who died Friday when the car in which he was riding hit a telephone pole in Dundalk.

Wilkins Hits Congress Rights Apathy

BALTIMORE (AP)—Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the NAACP, criticized Congress Sunday for what he called inaction and apathy towards the Negro civil rights movement.

"This is a total, all out campaign for first class citizenship," he told an overflow crowd of more than 2,000 persons at a NAACP-sponsored rally in a West Baltimore Methodist church. Then he began his attack on the lawmakers.

"Congress has crash programs for everything except civil rights," he said. "Point by point they have been apathetic since Birmingham."

Wilkins told the enthusiastic crowd that a few days ago some Republicans "were screaming that foreign aid be stopped in Argentina" following that country's nullification of U.S. oil contracts there.

There was an immediate congressional reaction of "wanting a complete investigation and aid to be stopped," Wilkins said. "Why don't they do something about civil rights?"

In asking for more support from Negroes, Wilkins told the audience "This is a total, all out fight. We must show solidarity in the crusade we are now undertaking."

Deaths And Funeral Notices In The Tri-State Area

Area Businessman Dies In Massachusetts

George Pappas, 73, owner of the Princess Restaurant, 12 Main Street, Frostburg, died Saturday evening in a Winthrop, Mass., hospital after an illness of six weeks.

Born in Kalamata, Greece, Mr. Pappas came to this country when he was 18 years old. He formerly operated a confectionery in Lonaconing and purchased the Frostburg restaurant in 1940.

About five years ago he turned the restaurant operation over to his son, George Pappas Jr. Since his semi-retirement he has resided in both Frostburg and Winthrop.

Besides his son he is survived by his wife, Pagona Pappas; a daughter, Mrs. Helen Dick, Wheaton, and four grandchildren.

Mr. Pappas was a member of the Order of Ahepa and the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

The body is at Kerby's Funeral Home, Orland Heights, Winthrop, where a service will be conducted tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. Interment will be in Winthrop.

MRS. CHARLES SOWERS

Mrs. Rebecca Ellen Sowers, 89, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Agnes Johnson, 612 Elm Street.

Born in Spring Gap, she was a daughter of the late Levin and Orleans (Nisley) Twigg. Her husband, Charles G. Sowers, preceded her in death.

Besides Mrs. Johnson, she is survived by two other daughters, Mrs. Eleanor Cook, and Mrs. Geneva Diehl, city; five grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

The body is at the Silcox Funeral Residence where friends will be received from 2 until 4 p. m. and 7 until 9 p. m.

A service will be conducted there Wednesday at 2 p. m. by Rev. Jacob H. Snyder, pastor of Kingsley Methodist Church. Interment will be in Green Mount Cemetery.

Pallbearers will be James Littlefield, Russell Collins, William Wilson, Curtis Nash, William Blair and Kenneth Buhrman.

SAMUEL McFARLANE

Samuel McFarlane, 54, a former resident of Pennsylvania Avenue, died yesterday in Baker V. Center after an illness of several years.

Born in Beartown, he was a son of the late William and Clara (McKenzie) McFarlane. He was a B & O Railroad electrician and a member of the Nazarene Church. He was a World War II veteran.

Surviving are his wife, Angwin (Thomas) McFarlane; five daughters, Mrs. Evelyn Deneen, Sacramento, Calif.; Mrs. Catherine Deneen, Mrs. Helen Smith, Mrs. Jean Cuppett, city, and Mrs. Dorothy Crites, Buffalo, N. Y.; two sons, James and Arch McFarlane, city; two sisters, Mrs. Anna Ellis and Mrs. Clara Paulaus, city; 22 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

The body is at the Scarpelli Funeral Home.

MRS. DAVID J. MOREY

ROWLESBURG — Mrs. Ida LaFerne Sanders Morey, 52, of Genesee Depot, Wis., died last week in St. Luke's Hospital, Milwaukee.

Born in Preston County, October 20, 1911, she was a daughter of Elias W. and Bertha (Saucer) Sanders, Washington.

She was a member of the Dousman Eastern Star and a past matron of that organization. She was also a member of the First Congregational Church of Waukesha, Wis.

MARY'S CLEANERS

Secrets Of Charm by John Robert Powers

Cosmetic Cover-Up

The art of make-up can be learned by anyone. What's more, it can double your natural loveliness.

Defects, such as irregularities of the features and even the signs of old age, may be completely neutralized by the clever use of foundations, the skillful use of shadows and other artifices of make-up.

There isn't a single irregularity for which there isn't some help. The secret is to apply the make-up so artfully that no one can tell you use artificial aids or camouflage. Everyone can acquire sufficient technique of the art of make-up, just as everyone can learn to sketch a simple design.

A very prominent nose, for instance, can be decreased in size by clever make-up. The eyes that are either far apart or close set can both be improved upon with very little effort.

Work in front of a good mirror—that's most important. It should be large enough to reflect the whole face. Actually, a mirror with three movable planes, so that the face can be seen at all angles, is even better. Otherwise, have a hand mirror handy that will reflect the back of the head and the sides of the face.

With nothing more than the application of two foundations and a knowing hand, you can recreate your nose, cheeks, forehead, chin, jaw or throat. Use two different shades of foundations—one light, one dark but in the same color range.

If your face is too long, apply the lighter one over your cheeks and forehead, the darker over your chin and neck. If you have a square or round face and want it to look more oval, apply the darker foundation to the outer edges of your cheeks from ear to chin. If you have a narrow face and wish it to appear fuller, apply a lighter shade of foundation to these same areas than you do on the rest of the face.

GOREN ON BRIDGE

BY CHARLES H. GOREN
(© 1963, By The Chicago Tribune)
ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ
Q. 1—As South you hold:
♠ A J 5 3 ♥ Q ♦ A K 10 9 ♣ A J 4 3 2
The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
1 ♥ Double 1 ♠ Double
Pass Pass 2 ♥ Pass
Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A—Two spades. West has been trying to "psych" you out of your suit, but North's double of the one spade bid combined with West's escape to two hearts has exposed him. North has let West's runout come around to you for appropriate action and it is now incumbent on you to complete the exposure.

Q. 2—As South you hold:
♠ J 4 3 ♥ A 10 6 ♦ K Q 8 3 2 ♣ 7 2
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♥ 1 ♠ 2 ♥ Pass
3 ♥ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A—Three hearts. If partner has suitable protection in the black suits he can now try three no trump. The delayed "cue bid" does not show overvalued strength since your original competitive raise has limited your hand.

Q. 3—As South you hold:
♠ 9 7 5 ♥ Q 4 3 ♦ K Q 10 ♣ J 6 3 2
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
Pass Pass Pass 1 ♠
Pass 1 ♠ Pass Pass
Double Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A—Obviously, partner is unwilling to concede a part score effort to the opposition and is asking you to select one of the red suits. It is always irksome when your only four card suit has been adversely bid but this situation should not be regarded as a calamity. If you haven't a four card suit to bid, you must try to get along as well as possible with a three card suit. Whether you should bid two hearts or two diamonds is a matter of temperament. Our own taste runs to two hearts, the with highly unreliable partners there may be a slightly greater measure of safety in bidding two diamonds, which is less apt to be supported by North.

Q. 4—As South you hold:
♠ A 8 4 ♥ A 7 5 ♦ A K 9 2 ♣ A 10 6
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♥ 2 ♥ 2 ♠ 2 ♣
Pass ?
What action do you take?
A—This is a very powerful hand facing a partner who is able to make a free bid and the possibilities are unlimited. A leap to three no trump would be ultra-conservative and the recommended procedure is to make a cue bid of three clubs, postponing further aggressive action until partner is heard from again. Needless to say, you will not settle for anything less than game. No feeling thought should be given to a call like two no trump, which in this sequence is not even forcing and could readily be passed by partner.

Q. 5—As South you hold:
♠ K Q 3 2 ♥ A K 10 9 3 ♦ 10 3 ♣ A 6
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♥ Pass Pass 1 ♠
Pass Pass 2 ♥ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A—Pass. Partner has admitted possession of a trickless hand by failing to keep your opening bid alive, and no effort should be made to improve the contract. In fact, every inducement should be given the opposition to carry on the contest. If West should contrive to dig up a belated spade raise, you might find it reason for rejoicing.

Q. 6—As South you hold:
♠ K 5 2 ♥ 4 3 ♦ 9 5 ♣ J 10 9 8 7 5
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 ♥ 1 ♠ 1 NT Pass
Pass Double Pass 2 ♣
Pass 2 ♥ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A—Obviously, partner has the hearts, which accounts for his pass over the opening bid. With two trumps and a doubleton, your hand may be regarded as tolerant of hearts and is not recommended that you increase the contract by a return to clubs.

Q. 7—As South you hold:
♠ A J 10 8 3 ♥ 7 6 5 4 3 ♦ 10 9 ♣ 4 3
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South
1 ♥ 1 ♠ ?
What do you bid?
A—Two hearts. A direct and simple raise seems to us the most appropriate action, although we would raise no strong objection to an immediate bid of four hearts. The preemptive bid might serve to inhibit the enemy's finding a minor suit which they would surely do if you were ingenious enough to double one spade.

Q. 8—As South you hold:
♠ Q 10 6 ♥ A Q 7 6 4 3 ♦ Q J 3 ♣ K
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♥ Pass 2 ♣ Pass
2 ♥ 2 ♣ 2 ♥ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A—Three no trump. Although partner's rebid is not forcing, it is semi-encouraging, since he was at liberty to pass two hearts. The king of clubs looms as a highly important card and, since partner has shown no interest in the hearts, it may prove easier to run off with a game contract which requires just nine tricks.

Q. 9—As South you hold:
♠ A 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♥ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♥ 1 ♠ 1 NT Pass
Pass Double Pass 2 ♣
Pass 2 ♥ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A—Three no trump. Although partner's rebid is not forcing, it is semi-encouraging, since he was at liberty to pass two hearts. The king of clubs looms as a highly important card and, since partner has shown no interest in the hearts, it may prove easier to run off with a game contract which requires just nine tricks.

Q. 10—As South you hold:

Centenarian Dies
WESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Lew is County's oldest resident, the Rev. Albert Life, retired Baptist minister, died Thursday night at the age of 102. Life, born in the county March 25, 1861, died in a hospital here following a long illness. Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Anna Mae Harris of Jane Lew, Lewis County.

Ann Landers ...
Answers Your Problems
DEAR ANN LANDERS: Is it possible for a man to be in love with his wife and have an affair with another woman? My husband insists it is, but I have the feeling he is taking me for an idiot. The woman is 15 years younger than I am and he has seen her half a dozen times. I learned of the affair quite by accident and told him immediately he could have a divorce. His reply was, "I don't want a divorce. I love you." When I asked him what was wrong with our marriage he said, "Nothing whatever. I can't think of a thing I would change." When I asked him why he stepped out on me he replied, "Because I am a big jerk."

He has sworn on the family Bible that he will never look at another woman if I will forgive him and not mention this again. Should I believe him? Is it possible that a man who loves his wife would step out on her?
—STORMY WEATHER
DEAR STORMY: Yes, it's possible — in fact, it happens all the time. Why do they do it? For a variety of reasons — the most common of which is variety. Period. What these Rover Boys get outside of marriage is sex and has nothing whatever to do with love. I believe your husband is speaking the truth and I hope you will forgive him. I also agree with his self-assessment. He is a big jerk.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I asked my dad for a stamp to mail this letter. He told to whom I was writing. I told him Ann Landers. He said, "Don't forget to tell her we just bought a lovely new home with a rumpus room so you could entertain your friends. And tell Ann Landers we bought you a $600 bedroom set and that you have your own bathroom and your own telephone and a stereo. She'll know then you have everything a teen-ager needs to be happy."

It is true — I have all these things and more, but I would gladly give them up if I could just talk to parents about things that matter. Ever since I was a little girl I have tried to get my mother to talk to me about sex and life, but

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a secretary to three editors of a well-known magazine. Among my duties is opening and distributing of the mail to the various departments. My problem is that several men in the office come by my desk every morning and read these letters. This irritates me no end. What can I do about it?
—EDITORIAL SECRETARY
DEAR ED. SEC.: Go to the top man in the outfit and ask him how he wants you to deal with the problem. Then follow his instructions. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

PSC Secretary Retires In W.Va.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—M. F. Wright Jr., one of the oldest of state employees in point of service, retired Friday as executive secretary of the Public Service Commission after 28 years on the job. Wright's retirement takes effect Jan. 1, but he will complete accumulated vacation time in the interim. Mrs. Maxine Barton will serve temporarily as acting secretary. Wright, 65, said he plans to spend about two months of each year in Florida and the remainder of the time at the home of his wife's family in Maryland.

ASK THE PEOPLE WHO HAVE CONVERTED TO ELECTRIC HEAT ...
"We find that everything stays so nice and clean with electric heat," Says Mrs. Kenneth Valentine of Cumberland, Md.
"We converted to flameless electric heat several years ago," Mrs. Valentine said. "Our furnace had been extremely dirty, hard to heat and hard to control. With electric heat everything stays so nice and clean. And, it is economical because our heating cost is only $12.00 a month, based on a 12-month average."
Flameless electric heat is not only easy and economical to install in your present home, but is also economical to operate. This modern heating method allows you to select the most comfortable temperatures for each individual room in your home.

Nuclear Power Debate Goes On

Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, offers assurance that nuclear power stations are not dangerous to their neighbors and can be located in populous areas. He says they would be less hazardous to the public than many other technological developments.

Thousands are killed every year by automobiles, and motor vehicle exhaust gases are suspected of contributing to the increase in lung cancer. On Halloween 71 were killed in an explosion of liquefied petroleum gas in Minneapolis. Airplanes fall from the skies, killing people on the ground. Electricity, elevators, railroads, buses, subways and drugs cause fatalities.

It can, therefore, be argued that the nuclear power plant is just an addition to the many inevitable hazards of modern life. But sustaining the argument is not easy.

Dr. Seaborg says, "Many have an unreasonable fear of the unknown and radioactivity appears as such an unknown." The fear is not altogether unreasonable. It has been inspired, in part, by the testimony of David E. Lilienthal, first chairman of the AEC.

Mr. Lilienthal vigorously opposes locating power plants in populated centers. And so, until now, did the AEC itself. Previous commission policy required that plants be located in isolated areas.

This change of mind has not been fully explained by Dr. Seaborg's statement. Not until there has been much more testing of nuclear power plants and expert opinion as to their safety becomes more nearly unanimous will public uneasiness subside.

Coal States Hold The Key

Don't look now, but the presidential election of 1964 could be determined by something that is almost never mentioned in relation to it. That one thing is the ancient commodity of coal.

The reason for saying this is that coal, although the efficient mines have staged a remarkable comeback, is still implicated with unemployment in the midst of prosperity. This unemployment is peculiarly associated with the very states that Kennedy must win if he is to overcome the losses he is going to have to take elsewhere in the nation.

As the pollsters and the dopesters sit over their charts, they give the Republicans the Old South, the Southwest, and much of the Middle West, on the theory that Barry Goldwater will be the candidate. They give Kennedy New England and, assuming that Rockefeller must cause bad blood between Republican conservatives and liberals in his home state, the Democrats are conceded New York as well. But the coal states — Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee and, to a lesser extent, Indiana and Illinois — are up for grabs. They have some of the prosperity that is the almost universal concomitant of a $600 billion annual gross national product, but they have those bad pockets of poverty that seem to persist in spite of everything.

Less than four years ago John F. Kennedy turned the frustration of one of the coal states, West Virginia, into his first great stepping stone to the White House. He was going to do wonders for West Virginia, as Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., the Kennedy "ambassador" to the coals and hillsides of the "mountain state," promised in the West Virginia primaries. But little came of the promise aside from palliatives such as the food stamp plan.

Using the magic of the FDR initials once more, Kennedy, by recently naming Franklin D. Jr. the head of a commission to restore the economy of Appalachia in a sort of "Operation Bootstrap," managed to save the governorship of Kentucky for the Democrats by a hair's breadth. But this sort of promise won't win forever.

The fact is that the miners are tired of pie in the sky. On a Coal Policy Committee junked through the coal country which I made early in October, I happened to room with an official of the United Mine Workers. I was surprised at the Olympian coolness that the official, a thoroughly class-conscious labor man, exhibited toward all the political parties, whether major or minor. He gave me to understand that his union demanded performance, not the privilege of voting for a party label. And, in coal, the measure of performance is jobs.

This puts Kennedy on the spot in a way that was familiar to President Roosevelt, who could seldom please John L. Lewis. Just at present there is a bill waiting for action in the House of Representatives which would favor coal by imposing much stricter limitations on imports of foreign residual oil to the United States. Thirty-nine Congressmen have introduced the bill by offering identical copies for reference to the Ways and Means committee, and 150 more Congressmen have written letters to the House Speaker saying they agree with the substance of the proposed legislation.

This should mean a victory of coal over residual oil in the House by Christmas—and presumably in the Senate in early 1964. Time enough for the elections.

However, a mere victory over residual oil, a fuel which is liked incidentally by Kennedy's own New England, will hardly put all those Appalachian miners to work. To get the coal country solidly in line, Kennedy's only real hope is to increase coal exports. This demands a concerted effort to get European nations to reduce the stiff tariffs that keep our cheap coal out of foreign markets.

Chicken treaties aren't in it with coal tariffs when it comes to presenting John F. Kennedy with a headache. For as coal goes, so could everything go that Kennedy prizes. The tantalizing thing about this is that Europe may not care enough to help.

'Go Arrest A Yale Professor Or Somebody'

The President, Congress, And Foreign Policy

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — American foreign policy is floundering because of a lack of understanding of the responsibility of the President and the Congress, respectively, in the field of foreign relations. The Constitution gives the President the right to carry on negotiations and make agreements with other countries but gives to Congress the right to appropriate any money needed to carry out foreign policy.

Mr. Kennedy is complaining that Congress is interfering with the conduct of foreign policy because it wants to cut down "foreign aid" appropriations or impose limitations or conditions on how the money should be spent. The President said in his news conference on Thursday:

"This program (foreign aid) is essential to the conduct of our foreign policy, and, therefore, I am asking the Congress of the United States to give me the means of conducting the foreign policy of the United States, and if they do not want to do so, then they should recognize that they are severely limiting my ability to protect the interests. That is how important I think this program is."

"I think it is a very dangerous, untidy world, but we're going to have to live with it, and I think one of the ways to live with it is to permit us to function. Then, if we don't function, the voters will throw us out. But don't make it impossible for us to function by legislative restraints or inadequate appropriations."

Mr. Kennedy's words come at a time when the conduct of foreign policy by the United States is largely opportunistic. The course has not been charted clearly, and the policies vary in different parts of the world. Only a few weeks ago, the American people were assured that the signing of the nuclear test-ban treaty meant a new era in the relations of this country with Russia. Since that time, the Soviets have started provocative procedures on the Autobahn in and around Berlin as American armored vehicles have been stopped in their lawful trips to the city of Berlin conducted according to World War II agreements.

It just so happens that both of these demonstrations are attributed to right wing organizations. However, as has been amply demonstrated in the last couple of years, the dangers of excessive actions are not confined to that extreme of the political spectrum. The serious fact surrounding the present national temper stems essentially from a lack of leadership. Once the mechanism of

Instead of a peaceful relationship, there now are signs of irritation on both sides. Within the last few days, a Yale professor, Frederick C. Barghoorn, has been arrested in the Soviet Union and charged with espionage. Formal protests were promptly made by the United States, President Kennedy publicly has stated that Mr. Barghoorn "was not on an intelligence mission of any kind."

As a consequence of the development of an atmosphere of friction between the two countries, President Kennedy found himself puzzled by the Soviet course. He was asked at his conference whether the Soviets may be seizing innocent Americans "with the hope of somehow extracting political concessions from us."

He replied: "Obviously, they would not be successful. I wouldn't attempt to make a judgement as to the conduct of the Soviet Union or what may motivate it from week to week, day to day, but I am certain — it is quite obvious that if it is based on the presumptions you state, that it will not be successful."

Mr. Kennedy was asked, of course, about the wheat deal. He promptly insisted that it was not affected by the general situation and "pretty much stands on its

MOB VIOLENCE — Two widely separated incidents of mob violence have served to underscore the deplorable conditions that can arise when public demonstrations are used to replace the more orderly processes of democratic evolution.

One incident concerned the jostling, abusing and striking of Adlai Stevenson by an anti-United Nations group when he visited Dallas, Tex., to deliver a United Nations Day address. The other concerned a demonstration that got out of hand in opposition to Earl Warren's continued service on the Supreme Court when he journeyed to New York to accept an honor from the New York Bar Association.

It just so happens that both of these demonstrations are attributed to right wing organizations. However, as has been amply demonstrated in the last couple of years, the dangers of excessive actions are not confined to that extreme of the political spectrum.

The serious fact surrounding the present national temper stems essentially from a lack of leadership. Once the mechanism of public demonstration is condoned — or encouraged — it becomes increasingly difficult to condemn. It is virtually impossible to encourage street demonstrations in behalf of integration on the one hand, and condemn other demonstrations simply because they do not meet with the ideological approval of national, state or local leaders.

The right to protest is inherent in a democratic society. But, like any other right, it is subject to abuses. This is what is happening now — both as to right wing and other demands. Certainly, it would be far more constructive for these elements, and any others, to rely on leadership to carry their cases to the public in a proper manner through legislation, or court action, or meetings in public halls.

These demonstrations are, among other things, self defeating. The vast majority of the public, which they are designed to impress, react in the opposite manner. There are adequate avenues of expression for all elements of the body politic without resort to the mob.

Complete Recovery Usual In Bell's Palsy

By Theodore R. Van Dellen

Bell's palsy is a distressing condition, which is understandable because one side of the face is weakened or paralyzed. But the affected person can be cheered by the knowledge that complete recovery occurs in 75 to 80 per cent within one to eight weeks. The remainder improve partially except for a small number who are not so fortunate.

Paralysis usually comes on rapidly. The victim often awakens in the morning and gets the shock of his life when he looks in the mirror and sees one side of his face, including the corner of the mouth, has sagged.

When he tries to open his mouth, the unparalyzed muscles pull the upper and lower lips far over to the sound side. Drooling is a nuisance and food spills from the mouth. Some disturbance in taste may be noted along with increased sensitivity to noise and pain behind the ear on that side. Speech is affected and whistling is impossible.

Only half the forehead can be wrinkled. The lids don't close completely on the weakened side, which poses a problem because of the inability to blink. An eye patch or shield often is advised to keep dust particles from irritating the conjunctiva. Propping up the lower lid with transparent tape may be necessary. Now and then the involved eyelids must be sewed shut until function returns.

Treatment is recommended, even though some recover spontaneously. Many physicians believe the end results are better when cortisone or a derivative is used to reduce swelling and inflammation of the involved facial nerve. This remedy is most valuable when given during the first few days of the sickness. Sedatives help to allay apprehension and promote adequate rest and sleep. Heat via infra-red rays and diathermy eases pain and lessens inflammation. The paralyzed facial muscles are stimulated with an electric current to prevent wasting (atrophy) and encourage mus-

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

On the wall of a building near his residence, Mike Nichols noticed a chalk inscription one morning that read "I LOVE GRILS." The next morning a line had been drawn through this declaration and a new line printed below that read "I LOVE GRILS." The third day that line had been crossed out too, and a third line substituted — in letters twice as large. It read "WHAT ABOUT US GRILS?"

Sir John M. Stow, K.C.M.G., the extremely popular governor of the island of Barbados in the British West Indies, tells of the moment, during Winston Churchill's visit there, when a photographer for the local newspaper, The Advocate, said respectfully, "I hope, Sir Winston, I'll have the privilege of snapping you again when you celebrate your hundredth birthday." "No reason you shouldn't," replied Sir Winston, "if you just take good care of yourself."

Two of New York's newest and best-publicized hotels are "The Americana" and "The Summit," both operated by the Loew's Theaters Corporation. One executive at Loew's refers to the Americana as "the box the Summit came in."

Uncle Sam Cuts Own Throat With Steel Subsidies To Other Nations

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — More details can now be told about the foreign-aid fiasco in steel—how American generosity has built up foreign steel industries, putting dozens of our own mills out of production and thousands of workers out of work.

By unofficial count, 179 foreign steel plants have received American loans or grants since World War II. This aid has enabled them to install machines and adopt techniques more modern than our own.

Thus the U. S. steel industry through its tax payments not only has helped to finance its foreign competitors but has obligingly provided them with better equipment.

No wonder the American share of the world's steel output has dropped from 46 per cent in 1950 to 25 per cent today. U. S. Steel products have been pushed out of two thirds of their former markets, causing a sharp production slump.

Foreign mills built at American expense are now turning out wire and rod so cheaply, for instance, that imports have captured 30 per cent of the U. S. market. Even steel plate, the bread-and-butter of the industry, is beginning to roll in from abroad.

Steel Frankenstein

Typical example: With the best of intentions, Uncle Sam helped to rebuild Japan's war-wrecked steel industry until it is now taking customers away from U. S. mills.

From 1955 until 1960, 10 great Japanese steel works received foreign aid grants amounting to $155,300,000. Nine more mills were granted Export-Import Bank Loans, totaling $121,100,000.

The Yawata Iron and Steel Company, for example, received a $5,300,000 grant in 1955, a $26,000,000 loan in 1957, another $20,000,000 grant in 1959, and still another $26,000,000 loan in 1962. Its blast furnaces are now producing more steel than most American mills.

Even as French President Charles de Gaulle was tightening the screws on American products, Uncle Sam doled out four separate loans totaling $6,556,000 to France's giant Union Sud du Nord steel works in 1960-61. A smaller $66,000 grant went to Miferrma, another French steel company.

Dictator Franco got $59,513,000 in grants for nine Spanish steel plants, the largest an $18,000,000 grant for the Altos Hornos Vizcaya works in 1961. The Empresa Nac Siderurgica mills received several American grants, the latest a $6,600,000 payment last year.

In Latin America, Mexico and Argentina received the most U. S. aid. Altogether 22 Mexican steel plants collected $90,780,236 from Uncle Sam, then promptly began shipping steel plate across the border to U. S. customers. Another 22 Argentine plants received $88,580,560 in U. S. handouts.

Steel For Reds

The only Communist country whose steel production got a U. S. boost was Yugoslavia. Uncle Sam granted the Yugoslavs $15,000,000 to purchase a U. S. steel mill in 1961. Earlier, Yugoslavia's Niksic iron works was given $5,610,000 in American counterpart funds.

The largest single grant was arranged in 1959 by Tom Dewey, the two-time GOP Presidential candidate, for Turkey's Eregli steel mill. Amount $129,600,000.

The loan was granted, incidentally, while Vance Brand was the government's development loan chief. He promptly retired from the loan fund to become a high-paid consultant and later a director of Koppers, the company that did the engineering on the Turkish steel plant.

Even our prosperous northern neighbor, Canada, once received a $5,700,000 Export-Import loan to aid her steel industry.

Around the world, foreign steel mills have been subsidized by the American taxpayers. Unhappily, the American desire to better the world has reached the point that we are in danger of crippling the goose which lays the golden eggs.

The Diplomatic Pouch

U. N. Secretary General U Thant has complained privately that the nations which like to talk the most at the UN often contribute the least toward its upkeep. He told visitors that the world organization is desperately hard up, yet has been able to sell only $70 million worth of UN bonds outside of the United States.

The American government has offered to match bond purchases by the rest of the world up to $100 million. . . . Premier Chou En-Lai is preparing a secret report for the Chinese Communist Congress next week on the Chinese-Russian split. He is waiting for the latest word from Moscow, where European Communist leaders are debating whether to kick Red China out of the Communist brotherhood. Chou is reported to be eager to patch up relations. . . . The French have flatly refused to participate in East-West talks to ease world tensions. The French contended that the Kremlin created the tensions, therefore can ease them anytime they want without negotiations. French President de Gaulle sent word, however, that France might join discussions later if anything significant developed. . . . American Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge has reported that the military junta has been filling key posts in the new Vietnamese government with pro-French administrators, including some who fought for the French against the Vietnamese nationalists during colonial days.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

It was quite a party. My father — John Michael Bishop — celebrated his 80th birthday and, when he had finished counting up the loot of sweaters and cartons of cigarettes and long playing records and ties, he said he thought he had done better than on his first birthday.

He is quite a man, and I hesitate to write those words because it is common for men to think well of their fathers. A month ago he bought himself a new unabridged dictionary "because word pronunciations change and I want to keep up with them." He bought a new big atlas "because there are a lot of new nations since the war and I want to know where they are."

He was 50 when he began to study astronomy and he has committed to memory all of the major constellations and their component stars. His hand-writing is Spenserian, and he keeps a running correspondence with people he admires.

I watched him mingle with his children and his grandchildren (13 great-grandchildren were not at the party), and he watches some of the younger ones doing the twist and asked what it was. They told him, "That's a ridiculous dance," he said. "It's just one foot in front of the other, crouch, and shake. I can do that." And he did.

He is blunt and sometimes bitter in his opinions. His credo is gaelic; those he likes can do no wrong; those he doesn't like can't do anything right. Thirty years ago, he retired as a police lieutenant in Jersey City, N. J., and he still cannot find it in his heart to forgive some of the politicians who used the department as a political device.

Johny Bishop was born here, but both his parents came from Ireland. His father, Jim Bishop, was born on a farm in Lower Scooby, Innescorthy, Wexford. His mother, Mary Murphy, was born in Farranferris, in the city of Cork. Life, to him, has been an admixture of hearty laughter, deep grief, and poverty.

They fought the grief in church, and they induced the laughter with fine wit and cheap whisky. In 1898, John lost a brother and two sisters to diphtheria in Christmas week. Instead of a Christmas tree, there were three small white caskets in the living room. His mother looked at the three waxen faces, murmured "Thy will be done" and went back into the kitchen to make supper for the others on a wood stove.

John too had diphtheria at that time. He was 15, and he survived. But it killed the pace-maker node on his heart, and it has been fibrillating ever since. He played baseball with it; he played rugby too. He enjoyed the Italian game, bocce, and he still likes to shoot pool.

He met Jenny Tier when she was 16, and he was 17. They were in love six years — not counting one in which they did not speak to each other — before they were married. The honeymoon consisted of a small family wedding reception, and moving across the street from her parents, all in the same day.

If he has any notable characteristics, they are the marks of the fighter. He is determined to the point of tenacity. Once he sets a goal, he never gives up on it. He attended night school after he married, around 1907, when an education didn't seem to be important. He made his allotment of mistakes, some of them grievous, but he lived them down and corrected them.

He raised three children — Jim, John and Adele — and he pretends now that he was "easy" with us, but he wasn't. In fact, John and Jenny had the same credo: "Nobody will ever give you nothing for nothing. Anything you want around here, you'll have to earn." And we did.

John Bishop was one of the most intelligent policemen in the country, in an era when cops had flat feet and could barely write their names. He took home courses in mathematics, in science, in police procedure. He should have been Chief of Police, but he was not a political favorite.

Church and the sacraments were always important to the family, and night prayers — "on your knees, please" — were on a par with washing behind the ears. When visitors came to the house, my father had a cut glass decanter of port, and one of sherry, with appropriate glasses. There was no radio, no television; someone always played the piano, and someone else always sang.

Life was often grim, and when hard times came, Mr. Goldman put our grocery items in a book and waited for his money until payday. New suits of blue serge often had to be bought on a time payment plan. But there was fun in the John M. Bishop home, and no one could tell a funny story better than my father.

Today, he lives in a small room crowded with newspapers and books and a television set. My mother has been gone six years. John would like to talk to somebody, but he has outlived all those who understand his point of view. He lives with his daughter, but she has daughters and grandchildren to keep her occupied. So, except for a party like this one, John Bishop lives in a world of silence. He never complains. "Me?" he says, from under the shaggy snowy brows. "Me? I've lived one and a half to two lifetimes. Why, when I think of all the great things and awful things I've been through, I'm miles ahead of the game. Don't ever feel sorry for me." . . .

Bob Hope (speaking for Uncle Sam) gives our newspaperboys an "Oscar"

If it were up to me to decide the Oscars (am I kidding?), I'd give one to America's newspaperboys for their performance.

I mean their day-after-day performance, fair weather or foul, delivering papers and good cheer to their customers. Learning how to be good neighbors and good businessmen, too.

But what I'm really here for is to tell you what a job newspaperboys have done for the Treasury Department—helping to promote U.S. Savings Bonds and Stamps, and buying plenty themselves out of their earnings.

They've found Bonds a great way to save for a

Bears Humiliate Green Bay, 26-7; Giants Rout 49ers, 48-14

Chicago Dumps Packers Into Second Place

Galimore, Casares Sparkle; Leclerc Boots Four Goals

By JERRY LISKA Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The super-charged Chicago Bears rode a crunching ground game and Roger Leclerc's four field goals to a 26-7 humiliation of the defending National Football League champion Green Bay Packers Sunday.

The Bears' second triumph of the season over the favored Packers gave them sole possession of the Western Conference lead, dumping Green Bay into second place. Chicago, now 9-1, and Green Bay, 8-2, each have four games left in the divisional race.

The Bears, whose Leclerc tried seven field goals in all, were far more impressive than in their season-opening 10-3 triumph at Green Bay on Sept. 15. Not only did the vaunted Bear defense almost completely throttle Green Bay's vaunted offense, but Chicago played almost a perfect offensive game with the running of Willie Galimore and Rick Casares spear-heading ripping thrusts through the Packer defenses.

49,166 Attend Game
Galimore ran 27 yards for a touchdown in a 13-point Bear first quarter which set the tempo before a roaring Wrigley field crowd of 49,166.

In addition to the 12 points by Leclerc's field goals of 29, 46, 19 and 39 yards, the Bear scoring was wrapped up in the final period on Bill Wade's five-yard scot after a 44-yard pass interception by Bennie McRae.

The outplayed Packers, who had five passes intercepted and fumbled away the ball three times, finally scored with 4:10 left on Tom Moore's 11-yard run.

The Bears played a brilliant ball-control game under the direction of Wade, who threw only 14 passes, completing 6 for 92 yards.

Packer Defense Leaky
Wade kept probing the leaky Packer defenses, sending Galimore, Casares, Joe Marconi, Ron Bull and Charley Bivins crashing for consistent gains. When the Bear ground attack faltered, he called on Leclerc's payoff boots.

The Packers stuck with John Roach until it became obvious the erstwhile able replacement of injured Bart Starr, was helpless against the hard-rushing Bears.

Roach connected only eight times on 20 passes for 92 yards and two interceptions. Zeke Bratkowski, former Bear, entered the game late in the third period with the Packers trailing 16-0, but couldn't get Green Bay rolling.

Dallas Downs Eagles, 27-20

Meredith's Bombs Spark Cowboys

DALLAS (AP) — Don Meredith bombed Dallas to a 27-20 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles Sunday, passing for two touchdowns and setting up another touchdown and a field goal.

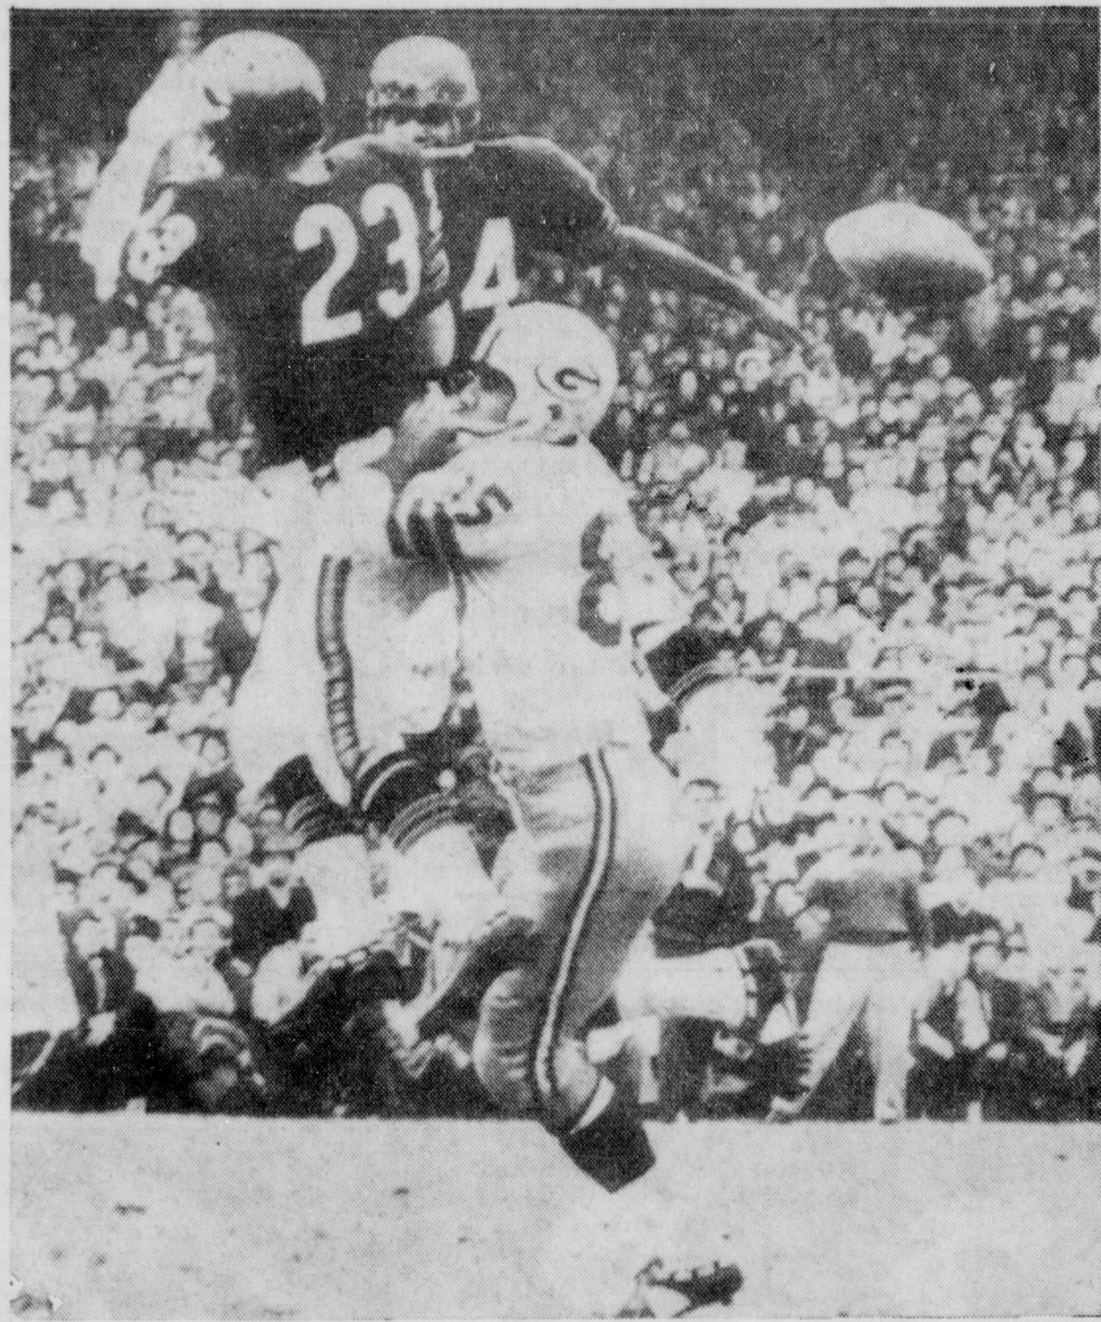

The Cowboys' quarterback threw for 302 yards on 25 completions in 33 attempts and led Dallas to its third victory of the season, and fifth place in the Eastern Division of the National Football League.

Philadelphia threatened late as King Hill menaced the Cowboys with his passing that paid off with three touchdowns — a 23-yard throw to Tommy McDonnell, a 24-yard throw to Timmy Brown and a 16-yard to Pete Retzlaff.

Dallas took the opening kickoff and paraded 80 yards. Meredith tossed a yard into the end zone to Pettis Norman for the touchdown.

Philadelphia got a touchdown after recovering a fumble on the Dallas 27, with Hill passing to McDonald for the score. Larry Stephens, Dallas tackle, blocked Mike Clark's try for point and Philadelphia never could draw even.

PACKER PASS IS BROKEN UP — Defenders Dave Whitsett (23) and Roosevelt Taylor (24) of the Chicago Bears, leap high to break up a first quarter pass intended for Green Bay Packers' end Max McGee (85) Sunday at Chicago's Wrigley Field. The Bears won 26-7 and took over the Western Division lead in the National Football League with a 9-1 record. (AP Photofax)

Broncos Haunted By Castoff, Lose To Jets, 14-9

DENVER (AP) — Quarterback Dick Wood, cast off by Denver in the training season, returned to haunt his former teammates by pitching two second quarter touchdowns that lifted New York out of a muddy field to a 14-9 American Football League victory Sunday.

The tailenders in each division of the AFL played a 35-35 tie earlier this season.

Denver, unable to get a consistent performance at quarterback by either Mickey Slaughter or John McCormick, hit the score board on field goals in each of the first three periods by Gene Mingo from 49, 33 and 15 yards.

A 50-yard field goal try by Mingo in the first quarter bounced back from the crossbar.

Wood connected on three of four passes on New York's first touchdown march of 75 yards, capped by his 30-yard throw to Bake Turner.

Wood's other scoring throw was a 60-yard bomb to Don Maynard.

Lions Are Upset By Rams, 28-21

DETROIT (AP) — Quarterback Roman Gabriel and end Carroll Dale combined for three touchdowns as the Los Angeles Rams scored an upset 28-21 National Football League victory over the Detroit Lions Sunday.

Gabriel, having his best day as a pro quarterback, hit Dale on scoring passes of 65, 42 and 51 yards to give the Rams their third victory of the season and only their first over the Lions in seven games.

Los Angeles halfback Dick Bass opened the scoring with a nine-yard touchdown run in the first quarter.

All of the Lions' touchdowns came on passes, as Earl Morrall hit Terry Barr on scoring plays of 18 and 20 yards, and threw to Jim Gibbons for 32 yards for the other.

The Rams' last two touchdowns came after the Lions had taken a 21-14 lead on Morrall's second aerial to Barr. The tying touchdown was set up when the Lions failed to recover the ball on an inside kick which went to the Los Angeles 40.

St. Louis Cards Jolt Cleveland Browns, 20-14

Jim Brown Breaks Record Of Matson

By FRITZ HOWELL Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (AP) — St. Louis spotted Cleveland a touchdown on the second play of the game Sunday and then rode Charlie Johnson's passing and Jim Bakken's talented toe to a 20-14 victory which knocked the Browns out of the co-leadership of the National Football League Eastern Conference and moved the Cardinals into a second-place tie.

Fullback Jim Brown, who became the NFL's all-time ground gaining leader, blasted for 59 yards and touchdown on the second play of the contest. That finished the Clevelanders' scoring until the last four minutes when Jim Ninowski hit Ernie Green with a 15-yard touchdown pass.

In between, however, Johnson hit Sonny Randle with a 41-yard scoring pass and tossed a 19-yarder to Bill Triplett, while Bakken contributed field goals of 42 and 9 yards.

The loss was the third in the last four games for Cleveland after the Browns had broken away to a two-game lead by winning the first six. They are now tied with the Cardinals at 7-3, one game back of New York.

Cleveland shifted to substitute quarterback Ninowski Sunday and he completed 15 of 28 for 145 yards and one touchdown. His performance was puny compared to Johnson, who completed 25 of 34 for 278 yards.

Billy Joe Conrad, the league's leading receiver, caught five passes for 59 yards, giving him 52 receptions and 636 yards for the season.

Brown, in addition to his 59-yard touchdown run, carried 21 other times for a 154-yard total and now has 1,447 yards in 204 attempts — almost double his nearest competitor. The fullback also caught two passes for 21 yards and his 175 total for the day boosted his career gains in all categories to 11,374 yards to surpass the league record of 11,317 set by Ollie Matson.

The Browns had one big chance to win but muffed it. Bobby Franklin intercepted a Johnson pass on the Cardinal 27 and ran it back to the 15. But Cleveland gave up the ball on downs on the 10, declining to go for a field goal while behind 13-7.

Cleveland got its last chance with only 46 seconds to go and in six plays took the ball from its 19 to the St. Louis 30. Five seconds remained as Ninowski hit John Brewer to that point and the Browns called for time. The scoreboard showed Cleveland had one time out coming but the officials said "no," and the clock ran out.

Ralston Cracks Monopoly, Wins Aussie Crown

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., cracked an 11-year Australian monopoly Sunday when he defeated Mike Sangster of Britain 6-8, 6-3, 6-4, 6-4 for the New South Wales Tennis Championship.

It was the first time since Vic Seixas of Philadelphia won in 1952 that the state crown had been won by anyone but an Australian.

The victory, buoying U. S. Davis Cup hopes, removed some of the gloom from the temporary loss of Wimbledon champion Chuck McKinley and Frank Froehling, runner-up in the 1963 U. S. Nationals at Forest Hills.

McKinley suffered a recurrence of the muscle spasm in his back which hit him in the U. S. tournament at Forest Hills this summer and will be on the sidelines for possibly three weeks. Froehling, the hard-swinging stringbean from Coral Gables, Fla., is recovering from an operation for removal of an abscess on his back. He probably will not return to the courts for a week or 10 days.

Both of the ailing U. S. athletes hope to be ready for the challenge round at Adelaide Dec. 26-28.

Ironmen Clinch Division Title

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI) — The Wheeling Ironmen clinched their second United Football League Eastern Division title in as many years here Saturday with a decisive 38-6 victory over the Syracuse Stormers.

The win gave Wheeling an 11-1 record and a berth in the UFL championship game to be played in Toledo Dec. 8 against the Western Division champs, the Toledo Tornadoes.

New Yorkers Grab Eastern Division Lead

Cop 5th Straight, Y. A. Tittle Fires Four TD Passes

By JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants charged into first place in the wild Eastern Conference race of the National Football League Sunday by manhandling the San Francisco 49ers, 48-14 with Y. A. Tittle throwing passes good for four touchdowns and 284 yards against his old mates.

Three broke it wide apart with three TD tosses in the third period, two of them coming within a space of 75 seconds, for the Giants' fifth straight win.

The victory moved the Giants one game ahead of Cleveland which dropped into a second-place tie with St. Louis after bowing to the Cardinals, 20-14.

The Giants play St. Louis at Yankee Stadium next Sunday and the Cards and Browns have a return date the following week in St. Louis.

Abe Woodson's 99-yard scoring run on a kickoff return in the third period was almost buried in the 21-point quarter spree that left the 62,982 fans dizzy. Joe Morrison caught two of Tittle's TD passes on 45 and 10 yard plays. Shofner's score was a beauty, a 70-yard effort on which he ran away from Woodson in the final 30 yards.

The Giants rolled up 173 yards on the ground in the first half with Phil King gaining 95, including 50 on a pretty drive play. Frank Gifford caught a 10-yard TD pass from Tittle in the second period.

Chandler Starts Scoring
Don Chandler put the Giants first points on the board with a 14-yard field goal in the first. He added a 47-yard field goal in the second and also missed two from the 42 and the 25.

Lamar McHan hit Bernie Casey for 68 yards in the second period.

The Giants ran up their big test score of the year when rookie Glynn Griffing connected with Gifford on a 30-yard toss with 1:53 to go.

The Giants have four games to play with St. Louis, Dallas, Washington and Pittsburgh. In their winning streak, their lowest score was 33 points in a 33-6 romp over the Browns.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — Quarterback Chuck Lovinski ran for two touchdowns and passed for another Sunday as Wheeling Central ruined a 20-game winning streak and won the State Catholic football championship 40-6 over Charleston Catholic.

Annapolis Halts Allegany Streak; Frostburg State And Bruce Lose

Bulldogs Edged By Charles Town; Bobcats Routed

Allegany's hopes of carrying a seven-game winning streak into the annual Turkey Day battle with Fort Hill were dashed Saturday afternoon as Annapolis High School upset the Campers, 21-19, in a slam-bang battle at the stadium.

Bruce High's Bulldogs closed out their second season of varsity competition by dropping a tough 6-0 decision to Charles Town (W. Va.) at Stayman Field in Keyser.

Frostburg State College suffered its worst defeat since starting football in 1961, being trounced 48-6 by Frederick College Saturday night at Portsmouth, Va.

A fumble on the Annapolis eight-yard line in the closing moments cost the Campers a chance to keep their winning string alive for Fort Hill. They'll confront the unbeaten Sentinels with a 7-2 mark in the big struggle a week from Thursday.

Halfback Danny Darr scored twice for Allegany, on an eight-yard run and a 12-yard pass from Fred Shank. Don Saylor plunged over from the one for the Campers' opening six-pointer.

Annapolis, appearing on Allegany's schedule for the first time, scored its fifth victory in nine games.

A 24-yard scoring aerial from Wayne Whitmore to Larry Creamer in the first period gave Charles Town a 6-0 lead that stood up in the tight defensive battle. Bruce ended the campaign with a record of four wins and six setbacks.

Frostburg's Bobcats lost their second game in a row for an overall 5-4 mark. Wayne Harper tallied FSC's lone TD on a 56-yard run. The big freshman fullback gained 144 yards in ten rushing attempts.

ALLEN HOTT

Allen Hott Cops Eighth Meet In Row

Takes State Title, Sets New Record

Allen Hott, Romney High School senior and the tri-state area's outstanding harrier, wound up his schoolboy career Saturday by capturing the state cross country championship at Morgantown and winning his eighth consecutive test of the season.

Hott, who had copped six area meets and an earlier meet at Morgantown in which hill and dale runners of Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia schools participated, hung up a new state record of 11 minutes, 50.5 seconds for the two mile event on Saturday. He finished approximately 150 yards in front of Garry Brown of Martinsburg. Hott finished third in the state meet in 1962.

Charleston High School copped team honors in the 7th annual meet with 54 points, nosing out Martinsburg by a single point. Elk Garden High School finished third with 121 and Romney was fourth with 135.

Morgantown High School was fifth with 171 and other schools finished in the following order: Weirton 198, Hurricane 214, Fairmont West 223, Barboursville 251, Huntington 262, New Martinsville 265, U.S.S. of Morgantown 304, Doddridge 318, Petersburg 360, Follinsbee 364 and Capon Bridge 371.

Lionel Pepper, of Romney High School, finished in seventh place.

Tee Pee Wins, 3-0

Tee Pee Tavern won three games from Peck's Cafe Friday night in a Frostburg Men's Shuffleboard League match. Charley Krauss paced the Tee Pee scorers with 20 points and Ken Harris led Peck's with 18.

East Liveliest Hunting Ground For Post-Season Game Promoters

Navy Reported First Pick For Cotton Bowl Bid

Pitt, Penn State And Syracuse Top Bowl Candidates

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

TEXAS — Unbeaten, untied and apparently unstoppable—carried its No. 1 ranking into the Cotton Bowl and a pair of Eastern team powerhouses, Navy and Pittsburgh, set college football's cross-country telephones to jangling Sunday.

The effete East suddenly found itself the liveliest hunting ground for post-season bowl promoters.

Second-ranked Navy, with the exciting Roger Staubach at quarterback, won a wide-open thriller from Duke Saturday 38-25 for its eighth victory in nine games. Pitt, a tough, prototype team reminiscent of the Marshall Goldberg days, stamped over Army 28-0 for a 7-1 mark.

Pitt Has Choice

Navy is reported to be the first choice for the Cotton Bowl, giving Dallas a possible "dream game" between the nation's No. 1 and No. 2 elevens, while Pitt is said to have its choice among the Sugar, Orange and Gator Bowls.

Penn State, 28-14 conqueror of Holy Cross, and Syracuse, which crushed Richmond 50-0, also are prime major bowl candidates with 7-2 records on rugged schedules.

Texas, boasting the only perfect mark in major competition, clinched a Cotton Bowl spot for the third year in a row by turning back Texas Christian 17-0 on the fine play of a pair of sophomores, Phil Harris and Tommy Stockton.

The Longhorns close their regular campaign against Texas A&M on Thanksgiving Day at College Station. Navy still must play Army in the annual service classic at Philadelphia Nov. 30.

While the Cotton Bowl took some definite shape, the line-up of the other bowls remained up in the air.

Rose Bowl Confusion

The grandpappy of them all—the Rose Bowl at Pasadena—was thrown into confusion by UCLA's surprising 14-0 defeat of Washington. Washington still could win the host role by beating Washington State next Saturday for a 4-1 record, but not necessarily. Either of UCLA and Southern California, who clash at Los Angeles, could finish with a 3-1 mark by winning. There are no hard and fast rules for selection in California's Big Six Conference.

The other Rose Bowl berth will go to the winner of the game between Michigan State and Illinois at East Lansing, the Spartans matching a 4-0-1 Big Ten record against the Illini's 4-1-1.

Michigan State edged Notre Dame 12-7 Saturday on an 85-yard touchdown run by back Sperm Lewis. Illinois whipped Wisconsin 17-7, and Ohio State was knocked out of the picture by Northwestern 17-8.

Unbeaten but once-tied Mississippi, 20-0 winner over Tennessee, appears a cinch for the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans but must beat an old rival, Mississippi State, the team that stopped Auburn's winning streak. Mississippi State sneaked past Louisiana State 7-6 while both Alabama, 7-1, and Auburn, 7-1, kept their bow fires burning. Alabama, No. 7 nationally, beat Georgia Tech 27-11. Auburn, No. 9, downed Georgia 14-0.

To Decide Big Eight

The Big Eight's representative in the Orange Bowl at Miami will be decided in the game between fifth-ranked Oklahoma, 7-1, and 10th-rated Nebraska, 8-1, at Lincoln Saturday for the Big Eight championship.

Sophomore Larry Shields led Oklahoma to a 13-3 triumph over Missouri while Nebraska struggled past Oklahoma State 20-16. The Cornhuskers are 6-0 in the league, the Sooners 5-0.

Orange Bowl promoters are said to prefer an Eastern opponent—Pitt, if possible; otherwise, Penn State or Syracuse. Alabama and Auburn are leading candidates for the Gator Bowl—against one of the potent Eastern teams—while holding a good chance to land in Miami if other Orange Bowl plans go awry.

Villanova Harriers Defend Title Today

NEW YORK (UPI)—Villanova will defend the team championship and the Wildcats' Vic Zwoiak, who set a course record of 24:57.3 last year, will defend the individual crown in the IC 4-A cross-country championships at Van Courtlandt Park on Monday.

A total of 31 colleges have entered the five-mile University Division title race and another 20 have submitted entries in the five-mile College Division section. Also on tap are three-mile freshman races in both divisions.

Unitas To Orr Aerial Gives Colts 37-34 Win

Baltimore Snatches Victory From Vikings With 5 Seconds Left

By LEW FERGUSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

MINNEAPOLIS—St. Paul (AP)—Johnny Unitas fired a 13-yard touchdown pass to Jimmy Orr with five seconds left as Baltimore snatched a 37-34 victory from Minnesota Sunday in a madcap windup to a National Football League game of rapidly alternating fortunes.

Unitas rallied the Colts on an 88-yard scoring march in the dying seconds. His 45-yard aerial to Ray Berry set up the winning touchdown.

Orr raced straight across the goal, then cut to the right corner of the end zone away from Minnesota defender Lee Calland. Then Unitas, with great protection, fired to Orr.

Vikings Lead Twice

Baltimore led 16-0 in the first quarter, but the Vikings stormed back to take leads of 27-16 and 34-23.

Unitas' third scoring pass of the day, a 60-yarder to Orr with 3:18 left in the game, pulled the Colts to within 34-30 of the Vikings.

Tommy Mason's best day of the season paced the Viking comeback after the 16-0 deficit. Mason caught a 21-yard touchdown pass from Fran Tarkenton, raced 70 yards for another and finished with 146 yards rushing on 12 carries.

Minnesota took the lead for the first time on the third play of the second half when Tarkenton hit Mason on the 21-yard line. The Vikings raised it to 27-16 early in the final quarter when Tom Wilson raced 30 yards up the middle. Mason's 70-yard romp made it 34-23.

Score On 56-Yarder

The Colts scored the first three times they had the ball. Unitas passed 56 yards to John Mackey for a touchdown on the third play of the game.

Jim Colvin caught Tarkenton in the end zone for a safety midway through the first period. Baltimore made it 16-0 three minutes before the quarter ended when Unitas passed two yards to Jerry Hill to cap a 52-yard drive.

Loss 7th In Row

The victory kept the Steelers in the thick of the NFL Eastern Division title chase. They now have six victories, three defeats and a tie. It was the seventh loss in a row for Washington, which now has a 2-8 mark.

Snead completed 23 of 40 passes for 424 yards and two touchdowns.

Bobby Mitchell, the NFL's top pass catcher in 1962, had his best day of the season, with 11 receptions for 218 yards. This included a 19-yard touchdown pass from Snead and a 20-yard scoring pass from halfback Billy Barnes.

Steelers quarterback Ed Brown passed often enough to keep his offense going, completing 13 of 28 passes for 254 yards.

Kathy Whitworth Wins Tournament

OCEAN SPRINGS, Miss. (AP)—Kathy Whitworth fired a one-under-par 70 and surged from three strokes back to win the $15,600 Mary Mills Gulf Coast invitational golf tournament Sunday.

The 54-hole tourney, finale of the women's circuit for this year, was the second straight victory for the 24-year-old brunette from Joliet, N.M.

Miss Whitworth finished with a 219 total. Her $2,325 first prize money gave her a $26,858 total for the year, second to Mickey Wright, who finished in the runner-up spot here with a 74 for a total of 223.

Chargers Win Before Record AFL Turnout

38,592 See Bills Defeated, 23-13

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI)—Old pro Tobin Rote and San Diego's youthful corps of fleet backs dealt a crushing blow to Buffalo's Eastern Division title hopes Sunday with a 23-13 victory over the Bills before a record American Football League crowd of 38,592.

Rote, in his first AFL season, easily outshone Jack Kemp in clutch situations as the league's two top quarterbacks squared off.

Rote hit flanker Lance Alworth with a 17-yard pass at 5:51 of the third period and it proved to be the clinching score in the rugged contest.

Fullback Keith Lincoln romped 54 yards for a touchdown on a deftly executed trap play and kicking ace George Blair accounted for 11 points with field goals of 39, 15 and 41 yards and two conversions.

The victory moved San Diego into a two-game lead over the idle Oakland Raiders in the Western Division with an 8-2 mark and maintained the Chargers' unbeaten record against Eastern Division teams this year.

Kemp and 250-pound fullback Cookie Gilchrist led Buffalo's first-half fireworks that produced a 10-10 tie, but Kemp was unable to get untracked in the closing half and the partisan crowd saw Buffalo's three-game winning streak halted.

The setback prevented the Bills from climbing into a first-place tie with idle Houston. Buffalo now is 5-51 and Houston 6-4.

Scoring: Buff.—Gilchrist 1 run (Yoho kick) 7; Blair 39, 15, 41 field goals 21; Rote 17 pass from Rote (Blair kick) 7. Total 34-13.
Buff.—Rote 17 pass from Rote (Blair kick) 7; Blair 39, 15, 41 field goals 21; Rote 17 pass from Rote (Blair kick) 7. Total 34-13.
Buff.—Rote 17 pass from Rote (Blair kick) 7; Blair 39, 15, 41 field goals 21; Rote 17 pass from Rote (Blair kick) 7. Total 34-13.

Attendance: 38,592.

Mill Workers Vote Tomorrow On New Pact

Meetings Slated In Westernport

Members of Local 676, United Paper Workers and Paper Makers, AFL-CIO who are employed at the Luke mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, will attend two meetings tomorrow afternoon in Westernport for the purpose of voting for or against ratification of a new contract agreement reached by the negotiating committee and company.

Wilbur Johnson, president of the Local, said the meetings will be held at 1 p. m. and 4:15 p. m. at the Welsh Theater on Main Street in Westernport.

The negotiating committee headed by Mr. Johnson is recommending the ratification of the new one-year contract. Talks between the union negotiating committee and company began at 9 a. m. Saturday and the agreement was reached later in the day.

Union members at Covington, Va. and Williamsport, Pa. also have been notified of the settlement.

Mr. Johnson said that he could not give out any specific details of the contract reached but said the pact will be for one year.

The last time the union struck was in 1952 when the walkout lasted three months. There are 3,400 workers employed at the three plants who are covered by the contract.

The deadline for a strike had been set at 12:01 a. m. yesterday.

Hope for a settlement became bright Saturday when Delbert Valentine, the company's coordinator of labor relations announced in Washington, where the contract talks were held, that "excellent progress has been made."

The issues involved included wages, vacation pay, insurance and seniority but neither the union nor company proposals were made public.

Car Rams Tree, W. Va. Man Hurt

James E. Youngblood, 29, of Box 90, Great Cacapon, W. Va., was admitted to Memorial Hospital with injuries sustained in a one-car accident on Oldtown Road late Saturday night.

Maryland State Police said the man, who was traveling alone at the time of the accident, sustained a compound fracture of his right leg as well as lacerations on his head and chin.

The West Virginia man was traveling west on Maryland Route 51 when he lost control of the car which failed to negotiate a right curve and ran off the left of the highway and into a tree.

Trooper R. W. Brown investigated the accident which occurred at 11:35 p. m. Saturday about 20 feet east of the Kifer Road.

Elks Arrange Two Special Activities

Cumberland Lodge No. 63, BPO Elks, will serve a special turkey dinner to members following the regular meeting Wednesday at the Elks Home, South Centre Street.

The entertainment committee, according to James E. Yarnall, lodge secretary, is planning a Touchdown Ball on Thanksgiving eve, November 27, with music by the "Melody Men". This will be a casual dress affair, free to the Elks but a charge will be made for guests, according to the committee.

John E. Byrd Jr. is exalted ruler.

Water Line Laid

Water Department crews are completing the installation of a four-inch water line in the 200 block of Maple Street. The line replaces a one-inch line which was inadequate, according to Water Commissioner G. Ray Light.

Two Awards Highlight State Legion Meeting

Officials Visit Area Post Home

The presentation of two American Legion awards yesterday afternoon highlighted a meeting of the executive committee of the Maryland Department at the home of Victory Post 155, Westernport.

About 150 committee members from throughout Maryland plus an additional 150 other Legionnaires, including visitors from West Virginia and Pennsylvania attended the weekend meeting, said James Wills, Mountain District commander and past commander of Victory Post.

Mr. Wills accepted a gavel from Thomas McCall, state commander, on behalf of Philmore Fleming, Cumberland, junior vice commander of the Maryland Department, who was presented the award for outstanding leadership in 1962, a top award of the American Legion. Mr. Fleming was unable to attend due to illness.

The Mountain District commander was presented two tickets to the National Commander's Banquet next March in Baltimore after being selected as commander of the "top district" in Maryland which has nine districts.

The child welfare program and other legion activities including the drum and bugle program were discussed at yesterday's meeting which was climaxed with the serving of a chicken dinner by members of the auxiliary unit.

Among the legion officials who attended the meeting were Thomas McCall, state commander; John Sloan, past commander; Daniel Burkhardt, state adjutant; General Bob Eaton, retired Air Force officer, senior vice commander; Ollie Williams, Harry Matthews and Benny Buckner, past department commanders.

On Friday Commander Wills was accompanied to posts in Garrett County by Commander McCall and Mr. Sloan who also toured Legion homes in Allegany County on Saturday.

Knights Templar To Confer Orders

Antioch Commandery No. 6, Knights Templar, will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. in the Masonic Temple, Greene Street, to confer the Illustrious Order of the Red Cross and the Order of Malta upon a class of candidates.

The Illustrious Order of the Red Cross will be conferred by Roy V. Ringler, past commander, who will be assisted by Reid L. Shipley, senior warden. The Order of Malta will be conferred by Henry M. Earle, past commander.

According to Commander John T. Reid, final arrangements will be made at the conclave for the conferring of all order of knighthood at a special meeting which will be held on Saturday, November 30.

Shriver's Hill Fire Checked

City firemen spent yesterday afternoon fighting a brush fire on Shriver's Hill.

About 2:30 p. m., firemen from East Side station were called and at 2:45 p. m. they called for an assist from firemen at Central station.

When fire was brought under control, firemen from Central station returned to the station and firemen from East Side remained on the scene until shortly before 5 p. m.

To Teach Natives: Local Peace Corpsman Assigned To Tanganyika

A second Cumberland girl has begun a two-year assignment as a Peace Corps Volunteer teacher.

She is Pan Minke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Minke, of 24 Valley View Drive, who is one of 77 volunteers who will teach English grammar and conversation in middle schools throughout Tanganyika.

Cumberland's first woman Peace Corps volunteer is Miss Beverly C. Bowie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon L. Bowie, Washington Street, currently on assignment in Morocco. Miss Bowie teaches English in Fes, beginning her assignment in the modern section of the old city. Since her vacation, she has been on assignment in the old center of the city, Medina. During her vacation she studied French in the capital city, Rabat, and was counselor in a summer camp.

Miss Minke is a graduate of Ursuline Academy and Frostburg State College in 1959 and attended University of Maryland. She taught at LaVale Elementary School in 1962, at Frederick, 1960-61 and at Franklin Elementary School in Baltimore County this year.

She has also been a Girl Scout leader, vice president of the Ornithological Society, member of a Young Democrat club and various teachers' organizations. Miss Minke has worked part time in high school and college libraries, as a camp counselor and as an assistant museum attendant.

She and her fellow volunteers will also teach mathematics, general science, social studies and home economics in their assignment and participate in a wide range of extra-curricular activities.

Before leaving for their assignment, the volunteers completed an intensive two-and-one-half month training program at Syracuse University, where they studied the language, culture and history of Tanganyika.

Most of the country's 120 tribes speak different varieties of the Bantu language. Swahili, however, the language studied by the volunteers, is the most common tongue. All Tanganyika primary students learn Swahili, and begin studying English, the country's second language in about the third grade. In secondary schools English becomes the language of instruction.

The new group of volunteers joins about 20 nurses and lab technicians now serving in a medical program in the country. An earlier group of surveyors and roadbuilders, one of the first Peace Corps groups to go abroad, completed their work in Tanganyika in June.

The new teachers expand the Peace Corps major role in developing nations around the world. Nearly all of the 46 countries in which volunteers are now working are asking for more teachers. Several hundred additional volunteers are now being selected to begin training in February for teaching assignments in Africa, Asia and Latin America.

The next nationwide Peace Corps placement test will be administered December 7. Qualified candidates who take the test and submit their applications in December can be considered for one of the spring training programs.

In College Play

Patricia Rexrode, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Rexrode, has a role in "Juno and the Paycock," a three act play to be presented by the Shepherd College Drama department November 21, 22. She is a junior at the Shepherdstown, W. Va., college, majoring in English.

Scout Troop Holds Court Of Honor

Six New Members Are Introduced

Michael McDermott, Morris Melotti, Andy Bergman, John T. Kohler, Robert Rollins and Terry Mackert were introduced as new members of Boy Scout Troop Six, sponsored by the SS. Peter and Paul PTA, during the regular fall Court of Honor yesterday.

Advanced to second class scout by a recent Board of Review were John Luttrell Jr., David Twigg, Anthony Craig, Thomas Stichter and Ricky Ott.

Ricky Harrison received merit badges for cooking and music; Thomas Torrington, canoeing and home repairs; Charles Geiger, first aid, and Ricky Ott, canoeing.

Ricky Harrison, Perry Bergman, Dennis Pisarcik and Danny Twigg were advanced to the rank of star scout and after they received their star badges they in turn pinned a miniature star scout on their mothers.

Recently-elected troop officers who were presented their warrants include Ricky Harrison, Perry Bergman, and Dennis Pisarcik, patrol leaders; Thomas Torrington, patrol leader; and Anthony Craig, scribe.

The movie, "The John Glenn Story," was shown at the close of the Court of Honor and refreshments were served.

Firemen Check Ammonia Leak

City firemen went to the Hagan Ice Cream Company, 212 Glenn Street, last night after an ammonia leak was detected in the building.

An employee of the firm went to Central Fire Station to get the loan of a gas mask and firemen took the emergency truck to the building and shut off a valve. Firemen remained on the scene and aired out the building.

Reapportionment Poses Tough Dilemma

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pity the nine Solomons of the Supreme Court. They are up against a really tough dilemma now.

Their decision could be one of the most important since the Dred Scott case—on which the court went wrong, according to a later verdict rendered by the Civil War. The Dred Scott decision held that a Negro slave was property that had to be returned to its owner.

The current decision could slice droves of officeholders from the public payrolls, and install other politicians in their places. Its impact on the American governmental and social system could be much more far-reaching than the school desegregation decree, although it's hardly likely to produce as much turmoil in the streets.

Boiled down, the issue is this: What rules shall be laid down to prevent county slickers from practicing "invidious discrimination" against city bumptkins?

More precisely, it's a question of reapportionment of state legislatures—a dull phrase which tends to put newspaper readers to sleep. But it shouldn't. For it is heavy with bread-and-butter issues.

The background is this: Historically, state legislatures have been dominated by rural folk. This raised few questions in the old days, but now cities and suburbs have burgeoned and the

Oakland Boy, 9, Dies Instantly In Pa. Accident

Dennis R. Biser Funeral Wednesday

Nine-year-old Dennis Richard (Ricky) Biser, of 13 West Liberty Street, Oakland, was killed instantly in a two-car accident near Meadville, Pa., Saturday evening.

The boy was a passenger in a car driven by his father, Doyle Biser, who was injured in the accident and was taken to Spencer Hospital in Meadville. He was reported in satisfactory condition there last night.

Details of the accident which occurred on U. S. Route 19 were unavailable.

The youth was a member of the fourth grade class at Dennett Road School and Cub Scout Pack 31, Oakland. He was a member of Oak Park Church of Brethren Sunday School and also sang in the children's choir.

He was born in Oakland, June 23, 1954.

Besides his father he is survived by his mother, Louise (Winters) Biser; two brothers, Robert and Davis Biser, at home; the paternal grandparents, Elza and Lillie (Mosser) Biser, and maternal grandparents, Robert and Hazel Winters, all of Mt. Lake Park.

The body is at the Minnich Funeral Home, Oakland, where friends will be received today and tomorrow from 7 until 9 p. m.

A service will be conducted at Oak Park Church of the Brethren Wednesday at 2 p. m. Rev. Stanley J. Earhart will officiate and interment will be in Garrett County Memorial Gardens.

Local Boy Wounded By Stray Bullet

An 11-year-old local boy was wounded by a stray bullet yesterday while he and two companions were walking along the towpath to the rear of Clement Street, city police said.

Clyde Layton Jr., of 7 Clement Street, was reported in "satisfactory" condition last night in Memorial Hospital, where he was admitted for X-rays and observation.

Detective Harry Iser said the boy's mother called police headquarters at 2:47 p. m. and reported that her son had been shot.

The two companions were reported to have carried young Layton to Clement Street and the McDonald ambulance was called and took the boy to the local hospital.

Detective Iser said the boy apparently had been shot with a .22 calibre gun and the wound mark in his chest and back was small. The slug went through the boy's body, hitting him in the chest and coming out of the back, police said.

Assisting Detective Iser in the investigation are Officers James Lough and Robert Moyer.

Former Grant Countyman Hit By Car Dies

Jockey Charged, Hearing Thursday

Fred Kratz Sr., a jockey and motel operator at Charles Town, W. Va., the driver of an automobile which was involved in a fatal accident Friday evening in Hallsboro, W. Va., has been charged with negligent homicide and will be given a hearing on Thursday.

Killed instantly when he was struck by the car driven by Kratz was Herbert Jack Hall, 34, a native of Grant County, who was dead on arrival at Charles Town General Hospital.

His wife, Mrs. Mable Elizabeth (Mongold) Hall, was admitted to the hospital and was discharged yesterday. The man and his wife were hit by the Kratz car as they walked along U.S. Route 340 in Hallsboro.

Kratz rode during the race meets at the Cumberland Fair years ago, it was reported. Authorities said the Halls were en route to a grocery store when they were hit by the car.

A native of Grant County, Mr. Hall was born April 12, 1929, a son of Jeff and Margaret (Michael) Hall of Maysville.

Besides his widow and parents, he is survived by a daughter, Virginia Lee Hall, and a son, William Hall, both at home.

Mr. Hall was employed by the Kessel Lumber Company and was working near Hallsboro.

His body is at the Schaeffer Funeral Home in Petersburg.

Services will be conducted today at 10 a. m. in the Church of Brethren at Maysville. Rev. Paul Ball and Rev. Robert Smith will officiate and interment will be in the Maysville Cemetery.

Suspect Held In Entry Of Business

Man Is Arrested In Newark, Ohio

Maryland state police last night said a suspect has been arrested in Ohio and may be involved in the breaking and entering last week of the Crestmont Men's Store in Frostburg and the Howard Johnson Restaurant on U. S. Route 40 adjacent to the LaVale Shopping Center.

An individual was observed placing clothes in a car near the clothing store and part of the Maryland tag number was reported to state police.

The sheriff's office at Newark, Ohio, was reported to have arrested a man in that city and an investigation is being conducted by the Ohio authorities who received the license number by teletype. The suspect was reportedly attempting to break into a building in Newark, police said.

The front door of the clothing store was forced and the burglary was discovered at 9 a. m. Saturday by Bruce Mackey, owner, who said about $45 in cash was taken and clothing strewn about the floor.

The restaurant breaking and entering occurred between 1 a. m. and 5 a. m. according to Otis Sterne, who said a window was smashed in the rear of the building and a door was torn from its hinges and broken so badly it is a total loss.

Inventories of the clothing store and restaurant were to be made to determine what had been removed from the premises.

The intruders were foiled in an attempt to break open the restaurant's one-ton safe which showed markings of a hammer or similar instrument.

Candy, cigars and other items near the cashier's section were strewn about, according to Sterne who said this is the fourth time the restaurant has been broken into since its opening in 1959.

Tic. Bernard Chabot, criminal investigator of the state police, is investigating the two burglaries.

W. Va. Traffic Toll Climbs Over Weekend

By United Press International

At least four accidental deaths were recorded in West Virginia over the weekend, three in traffic accidents and one in a home fire.

Seventy-five-year-old Thomas LePort of Henderson, Mason County, died in a fire at his frame home Saturday night. Police said LePort lived alone in the home and the fire was believed started by an overheated stove.

The highway accidents claimed the lives of two Virginia residents. Mrs. Ruth Rider, Mountain Grove, Va.—a native of Marlinton, Pocahontas County—was killed Saturday when a car in which she was riding side-swiped another car and plunged over an embankment on W. Va. 39 near Marlinton. Her husband was hospitalized.

George A. Lee, 31, of Richmond, was killed Saturday when he was run over by two buses on U. S. 460 east of Bluefield. State Police said Lee fell into the path of the buses during a roadside argument with another motorist, former Concord College football star Sam Bourne.

Jack Hall, about 60, of Hallsboro, Jefferson County was struck and killed by a car Friday night on U. S. 340 at Hallsboro.
